BLIZZARD TIES UP TRAFFIC ALL OVER THE WEST

Worst Storm of the Season Holds Omaha in Its Grasp for a Day.

BUSINESS IS SUSPENDED

Many Offices Let Their Employees Leave After Noon.

RAILROADS ARE IN BAD WAY

All Freight Trains Are Abandoned and Others Lost.

SCHOOLS ARE DISMISSED

Street Railway Officials Send Out Warning to Schools.

WEATHER WARMS IN THE WEST

Northwestern Reports Weather Cleared from Long Pine to Lander and the Snow Melting Rapidly.

Almost paralyzing traffic on all affected railroads and in cities and towns, the most severe blizzard of the season reached the height of its power in Omaha yesterday. For the day business practically stood still in the city as it already had stood still for twenty-four hours in cities further west.

The snowstorm that has been general over the intermountain country, and extending from the Dakotas down into Oklahoma, shows signs of breaking in the west and is rapidly moving eastward. In Omaha and vicinity the storm reached the climax yesterday afternoon, when for two hours a real blizzard prevailed, the snow being driven along by a wind that blew in from the northwest at twenty-eight miles per hour. It has been years since so severe a snowstorm has prevailed in Omaha. It began on Wednesday afternoon. All Wednesday night and Thursday forenoon a steady fall of snow continued, until it is estimated that from fifteen to eighteen inches of new snow covers this portion of the Missouri valley.

During the latter part of yesterday business in Omaha was practically suspended. Few people were on the streets and the large stores were almost deserted. By extraordinary effort the Omaha Street Railway company kept its lines open, running trains at fairly regular intervals. Snow plows were in service all the day and up to late last night removing the snow as it drifted over the tracks, in some places to a depth of two feet.

Two Lines Suffer.

The Benson and Forest Lawn lines were the only ones that really suffered. On these there were long stretches where the wind swept over the hills, filling the cuts. Service was maintained, yet little attempt was made to keep the cars on time.

The interurban line to Ralston and Papillion went out of commission early Thursday, the cars being firmly blacked in the cuts west of South Omaha. On the interurban line to Fort Crook several blockades occurred in the big cuts between Bellevue and South Omaha, but they were cleared during the afternoon and last night and fairly regular service was maintained.

Owing to the high temperature, which ranged from 15 to 25 degrees above zero during the day, there was little suffering in Omaha. There were a number of accidents in Omaha, due to the brisk wind, but the only serious one occurred to Mrs. Longwell of Twenty-sixth and Harney streets, who while passing the corner of Sixteenth and Harney streets was blown down by the wind, sustaining a broken hip.

Schools Dismissed.

Fearing that the blizzard might become more severe, at noon Superintendent Graft ordered the public schools dismissed for the day and the children sent to their homes.

Thirty-Four Injured When Great Western Train Jumps Track

WATERLOO, Ia., March 14.—Andrew Bennett of Bryant, S. D., was fatally injured and thirty-three other passengers were hurt early today when a southbound Chicago & Great Western passenger train was derailed three miles north of Dunkerton, Ia.

The train consisted of baggage, mail, three cars and a steel sleeping car. The foremost car, for some reason, while rounding a curve lurched from the rails, followed by the two remaining chair cars and the sleeper. The chair cars run on the frozen ground for a short distance, turning over on their sides thirty feet from the track. The sleeping car remained upright.

When the cars left the track the lighting system was disconnected and the wreck victims had difficulty in crawling out of the debris in the darkness. Some of the injured were half an hour in making their way out of the wreck.

Conductor H. M. Peck of Des Moines walked through a blinding snow storm to Fairbanks, the journey consuming an hour to notify the railroad officials of the accident. Physicians were summoned, from Waterloo, Osceola and Dunkerton, but owing to delays failed to reach the scene for several hours after the wreck occurred. The patients are being cared for at a hospital at Waterloo.

MOB KILLS JUDGE IN COURT ROOM

Virginia Mountaineers Wipe Out Entire Human Fabric of Tribunal in Carroll County.

FOUR OTHER OFFICIALS DEAD

Sheriff, County Attorney, Clerk and One Juror Are Shot.

COME TO RESCUE PRISONER

Judge Had Just Sentenced Floyd Allen to Pen.

SEVERAL OTHER MEN WOUNDED

Mountaineers Make Dash for Home on Horseback, with Posses Following—Governor Will Send Out Troops.

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 14.—In a flame of unprecedented outburst the entire human fabric of the Carroll county circuit court in session here today was wiped out by assassination. Just as Judge Thornton Mann had sentenced Floyd Allen to one year in prison for aiding in the escape of a county prisoner, two of Allen's brothers and several of their friends opened fire with revolvers. Judge Mann fell dead in his place on the bench on the first volley. Then the weapons were turned on Commonwealth Attorney William Foster and he sank to the floor with several bullets in his brain, death being sudden. Sheriff Lewis Webb, making a frantic effort to reach the ring-leaders, was shot dead before he had taken ten steps. Several of the jurors who had tried the case were seriously wounded. J. H. Blankenship probably fatally.

Two More Are Dead. Dexter Good, clerk of the court, and Juror Douglas, who were wounded during the fighting in the court room, died late today. This makes a total of five dead up to this time.

The Allen, including the prisoner and their friends, after the killing of the sheriff, backed slowly out of the court room, holding all would-be pursuers in check at the point of revolvers. Once outside they made a dash for the mountains on horseback.

A posse of citizens soon was in pursuit and reports have reached here that one of the Allens had been seriously wounded in a pitched battle fought with the posse. Special officers are being rushed into the county to help in running down the murderers. Governor Mann is holding two companies of militia in readiness in case the Allens and their friends gather recruits in the mountain fastness.

Hillsville is in a remote corner, fifteen miles from Barron Springs, the nearest railroad station, and outside help will be late in arriving.

Governor Will Send Troops.

ROANOKE, Va., March 14.—Thornton Mann, circuit judge of Carroll county, Sheriff Lewis Webb and Commonwealth's Attorney William Foster were assassinated today by a mob of mountain outlaws at Hillsville, the county seat. The clerk of the court and three jurors were wounded. Floyd Allen, a mountaineer, had been sentenced to one year in the state prison for ill-districting.

A pitched battle followed the attack of the mountaineers and several citizens are reported to have been seriously wounded, but after their murderous assault on the court officers the "moonshiners" rode hard for the mountains and had a good start on the hastily organized posse of citizens which is in pursuit. More killings are likely.

A special train has left Roanoke with law officers for Hillsville, but part of the journey will have to be made on horseback.

Floyd Allen, one of a family of three brothers, charged with ill-districting in the Blue Ridge mountains for years, was the defendant whose case was heard today.

Mountaineers Intruded in Mass. CINCINNATI, O., March 14.—A special force of the mountaineers who made their escape from Hillsville took refuge in an old barn in a mountainous spot and prepared to resist efforts of any posse that may catch up with them. All are said to be plentifully supplied with ammunition and from the advantageous position of the barn could withstand a much larger body of men.

State Commissioner of Labor Asks Farmers Needing Help to File Applications—Coal Miners in Conference.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, March 14.—(Special Telegram.)—The grand lodge of Iowa Ancestral Order of United Workmen met in session today. Among the more important questions to be decided at this time are whether the jurisdiction of the grand lodge shall be extended to other states, and to provide for the admitting of women into the order. Numerous changes may also be made in the constitution and by-laws of the order. Fourteen changes in the constitution and by-laws were dealt upon by Grand Master E. B. Evans of Des Moines in his address to the delegates. These recommendations were considered by the various committees and the different propositions will be thoroughly threshed out before they are to be voted upon by the grand lodge. It is expected the lodge will enlarge the jurisdiction and raise the age limit for entrance of members.

President Rogers in his address on opening the convention of district No. 13 today, urged Red Cross methods and first aid instruction at all mines. The new legislation in Iowa was commended as fair. But little will be asked in the way of legislation.

CONVENTION HELD AT CRESTON

Only Seventeen of 122 Delegates Oppose Executive—Congressman Tower's Candidacy Endorsed—Hepburn for Delegate.

CRESTON, Ia., March 14.—(Special Telegram.)—The eighth district republican convention in session here today endorsed the administration of President William H. Taft, selected two delegates to the republican national convention instructed for him, endorsed the candidacy of Congressman Horace Tower for re-election and passed a resolution endorsing Colonel W. P. Hepburn, former congressman from this district, as one of the four national delegates-at-large to be named by the Cedar Rapids convention April 24.

The two national delegates chosen are A. B. Turner, Jr. of Corning and E. E. Danford of Centerville. The alternates are Dr. McLean of Chariton and W. E. Crum of Bedford.

T. E. Stevens of Hamburg, who had been selected as temporary chairman, was unable to attend on account of sickness and Benjamin Friend of Creston was named as temporary chairman and M. W. Campbell of Bedford as secretary. This organization was made permanent. Speeches were made by Mr. Friend, State Senator Jamieson and James Bryan.

Of the 122 delegates but seventeen were not for Mr. Taft. These were the Roosevelt delegates selected by Packer county. They voted against the delegates and resolutions adopted by the convention, but other than this raised no voice in praise of him for whom they are bound to vote. In spite of the snowstorm, which delayed the delegates in arriving, the convention was an enthusiastic one and the eighth district delegates to the state convention will work hard to try to bring about the fulfillment of the wish expressed today in resolutions to have Colonel Hepburn one of the Iowa delegates-at-large to sit in the Chicago convention.

The two delegates selected for the president today, make six that have so far been chosen for Taft from Iowa.

STATE MILITIA IS IN CONTROL

Governor Aldrich at Auburn, Snow-bounded. Directs Adjutant General Phelps Take Charge—Posse Pursue Escaped Men.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, March 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Warden Henry Delahunty, Deputy Warden Harry Wagner and Guide Emil G. Hellman of the penitentiary are dead and Guard Thomas J. Doody is seriously wounded as a result of an outbreak at the penitentiary at 2:35 this afternoon.

The three prisoners who did the killing are John Taylor, sent up from Hamilton county for robbing the bank at Giltner; John Dowd, sent up from Cass county for robbing the bank at Wabash; and Charles Morley, sent up from Douglas county on a charge of robbery, escaped.

Three possums, under the direction of Sheriff Gus Myers, are scouring the country in a blinding snowstorm in an effort to capture them. If the possums overtake the escaped prisoners a battle is expected, as they are supposed to be heavily armed, and there is a suspicion that they have the co-operation of confederates.

A posse reached here tonight that Sheriff Myers and his deputies, who are trailing the murderers, had found traces of them in a haystack a mile east of the prison, but they had left when the posse reached there, going in the direction of the suburban village of College View.

Men Work in Broom Shop. The three convicts who did the murderous work were employed in the broom shop to the south of the other buildings. Just how they managed to get out of there is not known. One theory is that they hid and slipped out when the guards were not watching. Another is that they made some excuse to a guard and went out and that in the light of what happened the guard will not tell of the occurrence.

Immediately north of the workshop is the chapel and Deputy Warden Wagner's office is immediately off this chapel room. They shot and killed Wagner, only one shot being fired, the bullet entering his left breast.

Guard Doody heard the shooting and rushed in, firing several shots at the prisoners, but so far as known none reached the mark. The desperate convicts returned the fire, one bullet striking Doody in the left shoulder and another in the leg.

Suffering from his wounds and weakened by loss of blood and the shock, Doody retreated and reloaded his revolver. Before he could get into action again the scene of battle had shifted beyond his range.

Explosive Blows Lack. Between the chapel and the adjoining room there is a strong barred grating. While one of the convicts was busy using nitroglycerin to blow the locks on the doors of this grating, the other two were keeping up a constant fire on Turnkey Point, who was in the corridor. Phil, fortunately, was not hit by any of the bullets, but was forced to seek shelter.

When the doors had been blown the three prisoners made for the warden's office, which is adjoining. The sound of the shooting had attracted the attention of Warden Delahunty and Guide Hellman and the convicts fired at them across the room, through the bars separating the chapel from the turnkey's room.

It is here Hellman is supposed to have been shot the first time. The bullet entered his left breast and would have been sufficient to cause death if he had received no further injury. Steward Ward

The wounded officer was moved to one side by some of his men, while the others dashed up to the royal carriage, where they found the king and queen sitting calm and unmoved.

Meanwhile the crowd seized the man who had fired the shots and attempted to lynch him. He was so badly handled that he was scarcely able to answer questions when he was handed over to the police.

The royal procession was scarcely interrupted, but proceeded toward the Pantheon, where the mass for King Humbert was completed without further incident, and after the conclusion of the service the king and queen returned to the Quirinal along the same route.

Daliba rode a bicycle to the spot from which he had planned the assassination. He left the wheel in the doorway of the Salvatori palace. He waited as the royal procession advanced and when the king's carriage was near drew a revolver and with a trembling hand pulled the trigger four times. Only three of the cartridges exploded.

Result of Irrigation, Says Pope. Pope Pius, when notified by Cardinal Merry Del Val of the attempt on the king's life, expressed his regret and said: "These are consequences of the irrigation of our times."

Daliba's mother declared today that her son when a boy had suffered from influenza, pneumonia and meningitis, which had left him weak-minded. Within three months he was to be called for military service.

According to Italian law Daliba, not yet being of full age, cannot be condemned to penal servitude for life. The most severe punishment meted out to him cannot exceed thirty years.

They are going to move; every April and May Omaha has a "moving" period. If you have rooms or houses for rent, or if you are looking for a new house or room use a Bee want ad.

The Bee will get you a desirable tenant or will find you an excellent home.
